The Coravin Wine Extracting System inserts a thin, hollow needle through the cork to access the wine. The bottle is then pressurized with Argon, an inert gas that has no effect on the taste of the wine. Once the bottle has been pressurized, the wine flows through the needle and pours into your glass.

As the needle is removed from the cork, the cork reseals itself, protecting the wine from oxidation. This enables you to enjoy a bottle of wine one glass at a time, regardless of the time in between glasses.

Because of this innovative new Wine Extracting System, it is with great pleasure that we now offer these high end wines by the glass.

All servings are a 5oz. pour
